Mr. Stover Receives 1957 Honor

Because he has made every effort to help in any way the students of CHS,

Because he has given long hours to promoting good sportsmanship and coaching the football, basketball, and track teams,

Because he has done so much for the Physical Education Department and introduced the Physical Education Show to CHS, Because his contributions to CHS are greatly appreciated, the 1957 COLONNADE staff is proud to dedicate this 1957 COLONNADE to teacher, coach, and director of athletics, Mr. James N. Stover.

WITHDRAWN

PRESENTING

... THE GUIDE

This is Jan Stover. She is going to conduct a tour of Culpeper High School. Having lived in Culpeper all of her life she is quite familiar with the school for she often comes to CHS with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Stover, and wanders around a great deal so that she knows all about it.

... THE SIGHT-SEERS

ADMINISTRATION

In introducing Laura and Joe to the administrators and faculty, Jan will first show them the directors of the students' lives during the school year. Cheerfully and patiently the administrators and teachers have given their time and energy to help each student through the difficulties of learning to be good citizens at home, at school, and in the community.

In addition to their classroom services the teachers were sponsors of the clubs, coaches of the sports teams, and chaperones at the dances and other school-sponsored events. They also served on a guidance committee as counselors to help all pupils with their personal and scholastic problems. The boys and girls of CHS will always be grateful for their patience and never-tiring willingness to help them.

The purpose of Culpeper High School is to train students to be good citizens and to assume their place in society after graduation whether it be business, home, or college. The faculty and administration work to achieve this purpose through a two-fold program. The curriculum which offers college preparatory, general, and commercial courses, is the basis for knowledge while the extra-curricular program develops traits of good citizenship.

The Class of 1957 must have attained sixteen Carnegie units above the eighth grade in order to graduate, while the Classes of 1958 and 1959, being required to take physical education, will graduate with more units. Beginning with the Class of 1960, the graduate will have completed the equivalent of four and one-half units in the eighth grade and have 17 Carnegie units above the eighth grade, one of these being in physical education. Credit is given for all eighth grade subjects except exploratory courses in music, general business, homemaking, and agriculture.

All three courses, college preparatory, commercial, and general, require all students to attain four units of English, one of science, two of math, one of United States History, and one of senior civics. The college preparatory course is designed to prepare students for college. Culpeper High School offers a wide variety of electives so that the college-bound student can meet the requirements of the college of his choice.

The college preparatory student must meet the basic requirements for graduation and at-

CAFETERIA WORKERS—Mrs. R. Hunt, Mrs. G. Carder, Mrs. W. Thompson, and Mrs. R. Iager.

School bus drivers are like mail carriers in that "neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds..." though an order from the superintendent of schools announced over the radio does. Six hundred forty-eight students travel to CHS each day and the majority of these ride school buses; some come in cars and a very few walk. The bus drivers, who are both students and adults, transport elementary and high school students to and from school each day. A few of these drivers start earlier than the others and go out for a second load. When students take special school trips, such as to sports events, parades, and contests, they depend on these drivers to take them and bring them back.

The students and teachers of CHS could not get along without the cafeteria workers. Each week they make up a menu so that the students may know what is being served for that week. These women arrive at school about 9 o'clock in the morning and prepare the meal. They serve lunch to about 300 students each day in two shifts. With these shifts there is ample room for everyone. The custodian of CHS plays a most important role in the lives of the students. He cleans the entire school each night and morning and Saturday and keeps the school heated. He also opens it for activities such as ball games, night meetings, and public entertainment and stays to close up.

CUSTODIAN—Ollie Robinson

Laura and Joe will now meet the 648 students who make up Culpeper County High School. These boys and girls have come from every elementary school in the county. The students spend most of their waking hours in classrooms and attend club meetings during Activity Period. In these clubs many important lessons are learned in citizenship and working with others. Outside of school they somehow find time for numerous social engagements, some of these being school dances, plays, concerts, and the new teenage club known as CATS.

These boys and girls, as always, have fads in clothes, hair styles, and manners. Ivy League styling is seen frequently in clothes for boys and girls. The ever-popular ponytail and ducktail for girls and elaborately fixed Presley styles for boys appeared often.

Students Congregate at CHS

ACTIVITIES

Now that Laura and Joe have met the faculty and students, Jan will show them the activities they enjoy and participate in. There are clubs to satisfy the interests of nearly everyone. These clubs carry through many useful activities during the school year which help teach the students to work together and to be better citizens. Some of the organizations also sponsor dances and other entertainment for the student body.

Many students participate in the numerous sports offered. Among these are football, basketball, baseball, softball, and track. In addition to teaching students skill in these sports, good sportsmanship is stressed. Each of these organizations is governed by its members with one or more teachers as advisers.

SCA Sponsors First "Sucker Day"

SYMBOL OF LEADERSHIP—W. Smith, SCA President, receives the lighted candle from Miss V. Lewis, Adviser. Seated on the stage are Mr. P. Hounshell, H. Hash, J. Geest, and Mr. W. King.

For the first time, the SCA with TAP (Teens Against Polio) co-sponsored "Sucker Day" January 23 with the slogan, "Buy a Sucker; Lick Polio." A contest among the homerooms to see which could make the largest contribution found homeroom 33 on top. Following the custom of many years the SCA placed flowers in each homeroom on the first day of school and arranged bulletin boards to welcome teachers and students. Mr. Paul Hounshell, State SCA Advisory Chairman, spoke when officers were installed in a candlelight ceremony October 4.

Twenty-one club floats and units of marching students paraded through town Friday afternoon, October 12, to open Homecoming sponsored by SCA and Alumni. It was truly "King Crowns Queen" when Mr. Wayne King, Principal, crowned Jane Weaver 1956 Homecoming Queen. Only Orange refused to co-operate, the Hornets defeating the Blue Devils 19 to 6. The Alumni program honored the class of 1921 Saturday evening, October 13.

A chaplain from the council led a short devotional period at each assembly program. Rotating in the classes a selected student read a short portion from the Bible and made a short prayer.

The State SCA convened at Mary Washington College March 15-16, with Culpeper in charge of the exhibits. Wayne Smith, Herbert Hash, Jay Geest, and Marylee Newman attended the Fredericksburg District Meeting November 20, at Caroline County High School. Wayne was chairman of the discussion group whose topic was "How Can the SCA Encourage Better School and Community Citizenship?" Marylee acted as secretary.

Parent's Night, November 15, gave parents the opportunity to follow the student's class schedule. The parents learned of the children's progress and became better acquainted with the curriculum. Homeroom representatives put baskets in each homeroom December 3-17 for the purpose of collecting food, clothing, and toys for the needy families.

"Bookworms" Work, Dance, Picnic

The forty-five members of the Library Club signed permits, circulated books, and made ready new books and magazines for the shelves. Each member worked at least sixty hours during the year.

In the Homecoming Parade, the Club sponsored a float, the theme of which was, "Orange: As Columbus Sailed the Ocean Blue—So Will Culpeper Sail Over You." Five members rode this float. Jacqueline Clatterbuck was Columbus. The others were Paula Hawkins, Lillie Hoffman, Audrey Frye, and Constance White. Richard Robson headed the float committee.

The Library Club sponsored a bulletin board in the front hall during Career Day week. It displayed jackets from books which had a vocation as the basis of the story. Janet Heflin, chairman, Naomi Cave, and Oakley Blanks took care of the bulletin board in the library on which were placed announcements, the weekly menu, the school calendar, and other items. The other bulletin board carried book covers from new library books. Margaret Myers was chairman with Marie Kidwell and Raymond Sisk serving on the committee.

Helping with library work, encouraging reading, and advertising library resources were the main purposes of the Library Club. Each activity aimed to promote these purposes.

The Club sponsored a sock hop for all students on March 1, their biggest project aside from the daily schedule. Students wearing slacks, dungarees, and skirts crowded the cafeteria. A silver offering financed the dance. Susan Napier, chairman of the social committee, was helped by Billy Singleton and Nancy Myers.

"Pepergram" Reorganizes Staff

Highlighting the Pepergram's activities for the school year was the reorganization of the staff. Although to the readers it was, perhaps, the least noticeable of the paper's accomplishments, it proved to be invaluable to the staff workers. Page editors were added, and a fair distribution of assignments facilitated the editing of the paper and prepared younger members for key positions in the future.

A small staff numbering 32 proved no handicap in publishing seven four-page issues and three six-page issues. After assignments were in, the page editors began the long process of rewriting articles, writing headlines, and making up the dummy.

Barbara Ross, with the assistance of Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, made up the feature page. Denis Regan, Earl Gore, and Robert Lipscomb collaborated to write all sports articles. Back page news sprang to the readers' attention as Christine Haught, Linda Stein, and Ann Clark prepared it. Serving as exchange editor was Sarah Hart Willis, who addressed and mailed papers to other schools, receiving theirs in return. Co-Editors Ann Rawlings and Cherry Gorham took charge of the front page and supervised work on the other pages.

Features brought contrast to the various issues of the Pepergram. A contest which was run for short stories and poems showed Sallie Mellick as winner. Her story, "Christmas—Its True Meaning," appeared in the Christmas issue. Barbara Ross's column, "A Gram of Peper," provided the reader with novel bits of news about parties, unusual names, CHS alumni, and school personalities. Another new feature was "Club Corner" which appeared on the last page and gave the inside story on the different clubs' activities. Results of several student and teacher polls showed who CHS favorites were in such fields as "best dressed" and "best sense of humor." An editorial campaign debating senior privileges created much interest. Letters and editorials registered pro and con opinions.

This year the Pepergram float placed third in the Homecoming parade. It depicted Culpeper "peppering" Orange and was designed by Barbara Ross for the second consecutive year. The staff also entered a candidate in the competition of queen.

The members of the business staff played important roles in the production of the paper. Their work began before school opened in the fall with the selling of ads and subscriptions and continued throughout the year with the addressing and circulating of the completed papers. Peggy Smoot headed the entire business staff with Mary Jo Brown's assistance on the delivery end of the job. The paper had approximately 50 advertisers and a circulation of 730. A new feature was the use of a picture display ad. During the year five students modeled outfits from F. L. White & Company. Seigneur Studio did the photography.

Throughout the year cries were heard of "Who will go to SIPA?" The delegates were Earl Gore, Christine Haught, Denis Regan, and Donna Stevens. Miss Gertrude Lewis accompanied the representatives. At the convention they attended classes, lectures, dances, and a final banquet. The Pepergram was judged on three consecutive issues.

SIPA is held annually at Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia.

In addition to Cherry Gorham and Ann Rawlings who became members of Quill and Scroll last year, Barbara Ross received this honor at Awards Assembly in the spring. Quill and Scroll is an international honor society for high school journalists. Members must be a junior or senior in the upper third of their class, recommended by the adviser for outstanding work, and accepted by the executive secretary of national society.

Staff Toils to Meet Deadline

DEADLINE, MARCH 1—K. Dobyns, C. Vernon, L. Nelson, and E. Clark burn the Saturday oil to beat the deadline.

"I know this is my 1,000th picture!" "Another new student! How can I stretch the index any more?" "I have sold another ad. May I get in the next picture?" "Where is my bottle of aspirin?" "I can't type another word until I go to Baby Jim's for a hamburger." CHS students who frequented the library became accustomed to those loud wails emitting from the COLONNADE work room. It was the week before deadline and the shrieks of joy or doom had come in this order from Kenneth Dobyns, Photographer; Diane Curtis, Index Editor; Lewis Nelson, Ad Manager; Miss Mary George Bolen, Adviser, and Ellen Mac Mahon, Typist. Only Editor "Beppy" and Business Manager Nancy appeared cool and collected. Since Nancy also worked in the school treasurer's office, neither the budget nor the financial record ever seemed to be a problem as in previous years.

Because of a new activities schedule the staff was allowed only nine meetings during the year but these had been increased from one half hour to an hour in length. By the time of its first meeting, September 26, the staff had started work on the dummy and picture taking was underway. Individual pictures were made September 25 and 26 and group pictures November 6. The first lot of pictures went to the engraver before Christmas. The ad staff sold 23 pages of ads, the most in the history of the book. The sale of books under Roberta Lucas' direction totaled 598, also a record.

Four representatives from the COLONNADE attended SIPA in April. These included next year's editor, sports editor, and business manager. Each student had a schedule of classes to attend which taught her how to do her job well. There were also sports events and dances. On Saturday at a luncheon, the winning yearbooks, school papers, and magazines received awards. Previous to the conference, judges had rated all publications.

The COLONNADE staff held its annual banquet May 30. Only staff members and special guests attended. After everyone had eaten, the staff members were privileged to take a look at the results of their work and get some autographs. Later the books were taken up and everyone was sworn to secrecy until the next day when the whole school received the 1957 COLONNADE.

Olympic Members Feature Roman Feast

For the first time in the history of the club, members planned a magnificent Roman Banquet at which first year students acted the part of slaves. Members and their guests wore Roman costumes which were colored sheets or evening gowns for the girls and white sheets with striped pajama pants for the boys. The menu consisted of chicken, stuffed eggs, pickles, fruits, rolls, Romaine lettuce, cookies and nuts. Wrestling, dancing, and singing in the Roman style furnished the entertainment.

Since members of the Olympic Council were limited to the second year Latin Class, meetings took place on regular class time.

Using as the theme of their float, "We Came, We Saw, We Conquered," the Council won second prize in the Homecoming parade. Spectators, dressed in Roman costumes watched the "Devils," the Culpeper football team, conquer the "Hornets," the Orange football team, in the Arena.

Seven delegates and the adviser from the club attended the State Junior Classical League Convention held in Fairfax, Virginia, on November 10. They were Janet Driskill, Rebecca Stinnett, Mary Grimsley, Ann Clark, Linda Stein, Joan Groves, Michael Nelson, and Miss Laura Thornhill.

During Latin Week, the Club prepared the school bulletin board with Linda Stein as chairman of the committee, and gave an assembly. The assembly featured Roman costumes and the way they have influenced the people of today. Nancy Graves, Mary Armstrong, and Rebecca Hawkins attended the State Latin Tournament in Charlottesville, Virginia, Saturday, April 13.

A "Patch Hop," given November 30, brought revenue for the banquet and other activities and gave occasion for a social function. The sale of Blue Devil book covers added more funds.

Dramatists Revive Thespian Society

It was with much pride that CHS actors and actresses revived the local chapter of the National Thespian Society with the induction of new members to Troupe 1067. Cherry Gorham, the president of the new troupe, led the installation services with an explanation of the name and meaning of the Thespian Society. She stated that one could acquire membership only by actively participating in dramatic club activities such as plays, dances, and meetings. The newly installed members were Martha Haverstock, Charles Crane, Lewis Nelson, Ann Rawlings, Denis Regan, Barbara Lipscomb, and Alice Dodson. Mrs. Gordon Witt gave the oath to the members and expressed her pleasure in seeing the troupe in action again.

The Dramatic Club was fortunate in having the cooperation of the Department of School and Community Drama, at the University of Virginia. Mr. James Helms, its director, visited the club several times, once giving a demonstration in stage make-up and at another time making recommendations for improvement of the stage lighting. These recommendations were accepted by Mr. Wayne King, principal, and Mr. Paul Hounshell, superintendent of schools, and actors' faces were no longer in a shadow and the lights had color, direction, and intensity.

The repeat performance of "Angel Street," highlighted the club's activities. Presented March 15, the main characters were Mrs. Manningham, Ann Rawlings; Mr. Manningham, Denis Regan; policeman, Lewis Nelson; housekeeper, Barbara Lipscomb; and maid, Martha Haverstock. A talk by William Gilbert, CHS graduate and recent student of Pasadena Playhouse, earlier in the school year gave the girls and boys many usable pointers.

The club gave a very unusual assembly. Ann Rawlings, Mistress of Ceremonies, made the audience feel as though they were watching the television program, "I've Got a Secret."

Much work was put into the rummage and bake sales to raise funds. The students at school were asked to bring old clothing that would be salable. The dramatists realized the sum of $65 which was used to defray the expenses preceding the first performance. Many students contributed their time for this cause.

Junior Dramatic Club Reorganized

Reorganized in September, after an absence of two years, the Junior Dramatic Club was again on the club roster. Its first task was to draw up a constitution. Elsa Queen headed the committee appointed by the president for this purpose. Fashioned after the Dramatic Club's constitution, it was accepted by the members with a few minor changes being made on presentation by the committee.

The club chose as its purposes offering opportunities for training in all phases of dramatics and preparing students for admission to the Dramatic Club.

After drawing up the constitution, the club proceeded to other activities. A committee, with Lee Hill as chairman, was appointed to decide on a play to be given at an assembly.

They selected a one-act comedy called "The White Phantom." This play concerned a comical search for a ghost in a dilapidated house. "The White Phantom", presented March 21, had the following cast: Arlien Steiner as Eleven Moore, a superstitious little colored maid; Lee Hill as Mrs. Drexel Blake, a society-conscious person; Phyllis Rixey as Mrs. Ogden Frazier, who tried to keep up with Mrs. Blake; Charles Quinn as Curtis Frazier, her son; Elsa Queen as Ellen Sharp, a real estate agent; Jerry Owen as Officer Jerry Nolan, a not-too-bright detective; Crimora Witten as Marian Blake, Mrs. Blake's young daughter; and Elsa Queen as the White Phantom.

Y Club Provides Music for Lunch

FOR A GOOD CAUSE—L. Nelson, President of Y Club, and K. Troilo, President of the junior organization, check the senior donations at the Christmas dance with Miss L. Botts, Adviser to organization.

A new feature of the club and of the school was the juke box in the cafeteria. Everyone danced to the music during lunch time, and other clubs used the music for the numerous dances held during the year.

The Y Club had as its first activity of the year, the making and placing of a float in the Homecoming Parade. The float depicted an orange squeezer squeezing the juice out of Orange, the Homecoming rival.

Susan Napier served as general chairman of the Halloween Carnival held in the cafeteria, October 31. Fortune telling, bobbing for apples, "House of Horrors," the fun house, the sale of baked goods, and the masquerade parade brought out a large crowd. The proceeds helped finance the Cotillion.

Y Club members attended church in a body once a month. A different church was attended each month and a large percentage of members participated.

The District Y Clubs convened October 20 in Front Royal with Lewis Nelson, Mary Ann Hansbrough—District Secretary, Patricia Martin, Kathleen Troilo, and Miss Lucy Botts—Adviser, attending.

The annual Christmas Dance was held in the cafeteria on December 14 with Cherry Gorham and Ann Rawlings as co-chairmen. Canned foods and toys for use in the community Christmas baskets was the admission.

At the Sweetheart Cotillion, February 15, in the gymnasium, dancers enjoyed the music of the "Dixie Rhythmaires" from 8:30 to 12.

A Valentine motif featured a large red heart in the center of the floor bearing the words "Will You Remember?" Overhead streamers met in the center in a burst of red and pink balloons above the heart. On the sides red and pink streamers alternated. Red cheesecloth sprinkled with tiny white hearts formed the backdrop behind the orchestra. Elizabeth Clark and Richard Robson reigned over the festivity as king and queen of hearts.

Cherry Gorham as reporter, Lewis Nelson as senator, Robert Lipscomb as delegate, and Betty Browning and Elizabeth Burton as aides attended the Model General Assembly in Richmond, April 4-6.

Junior Y Holds Halloween Carnival

Bobbing for apples, "House of Horror," and plenty of cakes and cookies featured the Halloween Carnival sponsored by the Junior Tri-Hi-Y with the other Y Club October 31. The Junior Tri-Hi-Y also co-sponsored the Christmas Dance with members of the older Y group. The admission price was a can of food or a toy which was used to help the community fill Christmas baskets. Louise Stevens helped with the packing of these baskets.

The third year of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y saw many other activities. They held their meeting in the cafeteria at activity period once a month on the second Wednesdays. The junior and older Y groups often combined forces for their activities such as October 12th, the day of the Homecoming Parade, when Y Clubs were represented by a float in which some of the junior members took part. K. Troilo, president, was the representative working with the group.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y and Y Clubs had a juke-box installed in the cafeteria as a money making project for the Cotillion. This proved to be financially successful and furnished training for citizenship. On days following the ones on which students failed to clean up, it was a case of "Stop the Music."

On Sundays the club members met at a certain church to attend services. They visited a different church every third Sunday.

The club brought goods for the rummage sale and some of its members helped in selling these goods. The money made went to the Sweetheart Cotillion which was held on February 15. On March 8 a sock hop was given by both clubs to make money for the Sweetheart Cotillion.

The combined Y clubs presented "Star over Bethlehem," as the regular assembly program December 20. Members of the club who participated in the pageant included Kathy Troilo as Astra; Louise Stevens, Nathan; Elsa Queen, Celesta; and Charlotte Martin, the innkeeper's wife.

This was Miss Lucy Botts' first year of advisership to both Y clubs. In the second part of the year Miss Louise Galleher became assistant adviser to the junior club.

FHA Sponsors Sock Hop

Highlighting the FHA's year was the sock hop given on January 25 for the entire student body. Students dressed in many different attires thronged the cafeteria. A donation collected at the door financed the annual banquet to be held in May.

The club gained valuable experience from serving coffee, and giving teas and parties. The first of these was the serving of coffee to the teachers at their regular monthly teacher's meeting. Cookies, sandwiches, and tea were on the scene at the annual tea for Career Day. This occasion was enjoyed by all the representatives from colleges, teachers, and club officers. Ann Clatterbuck and Hazel Mills served at the tea table. Doris and Nancy Carder assisted.

FHA captured the trophy for their float in the Homecoming Parade. All the club officers and federation officers rode on this float displaying the theme "Wash 'Em Out; Iron 'Em Out; Hang 'Em on the Line; We Can Beat Orange Any Old Time." The club also sponsored a girl for Homecoming Queen.

FHA week, celebrated during the week of April 7-13, featuring a bulletin board. This explained the goals and purposes of the club. Also during the month the homemakers held a bake sale to help finance the club's budget.

Christmas brought a program for mothers and small brothers and sisters. The meeting was devoted wholly to a program that would further interest in ways of spending Christmas at home. Each child received a small gift.

Spring fashions were on parade at the FHA fashion show, which gave each girl an opportunity to model the dress she had made in her home economics class. After the mothers had enjoyed the show they were invited to their daughters' tea in the Home Economic Department. New officers for the next year were elected during the month and installed at the banquet.

The club also enjoyed their trip to Richmond in April. They toured a hotel and restaurant in the morning, ate lunch at Miller and Rhoads, and enjoyed a modeling of the latest fashions as they ate. Then later that afternoon they were given free time to seek out their own spots of interest. The club felt that they had a successful year and there was joy in doing things to serve the community and school.

The club served supper in the Home Economics Department to the District N Principals' Association meeting in Culpeper, March 7. FHA members planned the meal, bought all materials, cooked and served the meal, and cleaned the department afterwards.

Future Farmers Compete in Contests

Culpeper Chapter of Future Farmers of America sent representatives to the annual state convention of the Virginia Association, June 25-28, 1956, at VPI. The team of Harry Carpenter, Wayne Smith, and Billy Singleton participated in dairy judging. Wayne Smith also participated in the shop judging and the state FFA chorus. Billy was awarded the highest award, the State Farmer Degree. Robert Lipscomb participated in the state public speaking contest.

The chapter met and reorganized with the beginning of the new school year. The program of work, consisting of many activities to be carried out during the year, was set up. They held a night meeting for initiation of new members. These members received the Green Hand Degree.

In the first half of the school year, FFA members participated in the Federation judging contests consisting of forestry, shop, crops, tractor driving, and public speaking. Wayne Smith was district winner with his speech on farm safety. Other club contests participated in during the spring months were dairy, livestock, and land judging.

During February 16-23, the chapter joined Future Farmers of America members throughout the nation in celebrating National FFA Week. Local chapter members participated in the George Washington Federation annual banquet at Stafford High School on February 20. In addition, posters were displayed and news articles published pertaining to FFA.

The chapter ended its year with the annual Parent and Son Banquet when awards were presented to the members with outstanding achievements.

Music Classes Have Student Teacher

COME ALONG, JOIN IN THE SONG—M. McInturff accompanies and sings with M. McFarland, J. Hopkins, and L. Clatterbuck in a practice session of Glee Club.

Miss Page Borst, student teacher from Madison College and CHS alumna, assigned to the CHS Music Department for practice teaching, assisted the members of the Glee Club in producing an elaborate Queen's float for the Homecoming parade. The Queen and her court were seated on a flower-covered bridge. Under the bridge flowed an aluminum-foil stream surrounded by crepe paper, flowers, and grass.

Exhibiting their talent among 126 choristers, Ellen MacMahon, Wayne Smith, and John Creel attended the All-State Chorus at the Robert E. Lee High School in Staunton, Virginia, February 15, 16, and 17. Out of twelve selections, of which "Let Not Your Song End," by Cain, "Brother Will, Brother John," by Sacco and "The Earth is the Lord's," by Diercks were a few, and three solos, Ellen Mac Mahon gave a solo in a spiritual, "I've Been in the Storm So Long." Prof. Louis Diercks, director of music at the Ohio State University, conducted this chorus of 29 schools and gave many helpful suggestions concerning breath control, posture, and tone quality.

The club presented its combined Christmas program with the Band, December 16, in the CHS gymnasium. Some of the numbers included in this program were "White Christmas," a Medley of Christmas Carols, "Sleep Holy Babe," featuring a girls' chorus and "O Holy Night," with soloist Ellen Mac Mahon.

Climaxing Christmas activities at CHS, the Y Club presented a Christmas pageant in assembly December 20 with the Glee Club furnishing the background music of Christmas hymns.

The singers entertained the Culpeper Farmers' Co-Operative at their annual meeting, January 22, in the Pitts Theatre. The songs included in the program were "Psalm 23," "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," and "Faith of our Fathers."

Eleven capped and gowned members took their places among the red-robed underclassmen June 2, at Baccalaureate services. Inspired by the Glee Club's rendition of "Worship," the seniors were boosted in their preparation for commencement.

Glee Club was a scheduled class meeting the first period of each day in the band room of the new building. After having sung in former years in the cafeteria, the class found the new surrounding most pleasant.

The Glee Club entertained the Women's Circle of the Presbyterian Church.

Choristers Acquire New Adviser

"Breathe deeply, girls, and we'll do this scale in one breath." This was Mrs. James Crane, Junior Glee Club director and adviser. As a former professional singer her advice helped in the training and encouragement of Junior Glee Club members.

The Club increased its membership during Mrs. Crane's first year as director and participated more actively in school events. Mrs. Crane gave the members much valuable information and drilled them on breath control, maintaining pitch, and note reading, which the girls enthusiastically practiced and planned to make use of, not only this year but also in the Glee Club. They learned to sing in two- and three-part harmony and to reach notes in high and low ranges with better tonal quality. They also worked faithfully on expression and diction, besides learning how to follow a conductor's directions.

Members took part in several concerts during the year. They combined with the Glee Club in the Y Club's Christmas play. In March they cooperated with the Junior Dramatic Club in an Assembly Program. Members sang several numbers, including "The Way You Look Tonight," "The Bells of St. Mary's," and "The Man Upstairs." The group was accompanied by Sue Gretchen Gallagher in these and a variety of other selections which had been ordered by Pat Troilo, librarian.

Junior Glee Club held rehearsals on regular scheduled meeting days, the second Wednesday, and at other activity periods when members were not in starred meetings. The varied activities of the Junior Glee Club members provided a good basis for the greater progress, interest in, and a worth-while contribution toward the Culpeper High School Glee Club in the years ahead.

Mrs. Warren listened to the group sing on one occasion and gave suggestions for improvement. She also directed the Club one time. Members enjoyed the experiment and gained more knowledge as far as choral singing and voice placement was concerned.

FBLA Club Stars Again

"FBLA Points the Way" was the 1956-57 motto. Using the points of the star to represent the five major activities, this theme dominated all of them including the scrapbook, exhibit, and bulletin boards.

Included in the social activities were Teddy Gore's placing sixth place in the national Mr. FBLA contest, a party to interest new members, a Christmas party, and the annual Employee-Employer Banquet. Delegates to the State Convention in Richmond, April 27-29, also attended a banquet and dance.

Financial activities included the sale of used books, stenographic services in the community, and several "Pie Days." Leadership and promotion activities meant attractive bulletin boards in the school as well as Paula Hawkins, regional historian, compiling material for the state scrapbook. A group spoke to the business club of Cedar Lee High School to interest them in FBLA work. An assembly program featured a skit, "Boss vs. Secretary," and a pantomime, "Comedy of Office Errors." Marie Kidwell took part in the public speaking and Nancy Jenkins in the parliamentary law regional contests.

School and community service figured in the float designed by Phoebe Brown and Oakley Blanks for Homecoming, and the programs and bulletins duplicated for other schools and churches. Nancy Jenkins, Mozelia Ford, Eva Barfield, and Rosalie Baber selected the drapes which were made by Mrs. Carlton Settle for the business department.

To increase business knowledge and skills, the club made a survey of 1954 graduates to be used to improve the work of the Business Department. Other activities in the field included a cosmetology demonstration; the annual business student versus businessman spelling bee won by the students; and the selection of Mr. FBLA and Miss FBLA.

DO Students Learn as They Work

Providing students with the opportunity to work part time and continue studies in school was the purpose of the Diversified Occupations Club. Students acquired better understanding of employer-employee relations in class. Job opportunities provided the students with experience and a certain amount of financial independence. A better knowledge of business and how to get along with the public were emphasized as valuable factors.

Among the employers with the student worker were the Virginia Department of Highways, Julian Aylor; Culpeper Farmers' Co-Operative, Douglas Bennett; Hoffman Implement Service, Lawrence Groves; Gill and Graham Implement Company, David James; Culpeper Terrace Motel, Clinton Creel; Main Street Service Station, James Graver; Culpeper National Bank, Jean Kilby; Newberry's, Ellen Jacobs; Leggett's Department Store, Euva Pritt; Tom Frost Garage, William Tapp; Rosson and Troilo, Dennis Young; Cash and Carry Building Supply, Earl Pritt; Lewis Judd's Sawmill, Harold Stover; Poplar Corner Enterprises, George Thayer; The Vater's Shoe Store, Alden Long; and Vocational Agricultural Department, Nina Giles and Laura Rosson.

Individual assignments given under the direction of Mr. Shirley Broyles improved the students' knowledge of their jobs. Monthly meetings informed club members of the correct relationship that should be established between the student and his employer. This information was based on reports presented by representatives of business establishments.

The club entered a float in the Homecoming Parade with the theme "Culpeper over Orange." All members worked in preparing the unit for the parade.

Highlighting the DO year was the annual state convention held at Virginia Beach, Virginia, March 18 and 19. Representatives from CHS gained lively experiences and educational training from this convention. They also attended a district contest held February 1, at Washington and Lee High School. The club selected David James's essay, "My Occupation," to be entered in the contest.

Qualities which are necessary for a student to be successful, competent, and profitable to his job were sought out and made known to each employed student. From this survey many became familiar with the requirements of their jobs and learned the personality traits that are indispensable.

Band Takes Top

PARADING THE BRASSES—S. Gallagher, flutist; F. Peebles, trumpeter; and J. Willis, baritone horn player, make sweet music in preparing for the All-State Contest.

For the second straight year the Culpeper High School Band took first place honors and $100 in the Orange Christmas Parade after demonstrating their ability in marching and in playing in concert formation. The preceeding night they participated in the annual Christmas Parade in Culpeper, playing Christmas songs and other marches.

Consisting of sixty-eight musicians, including six majorettes, the drum major, and a four-man color guard, the Band boasted the largest enrollment in its history. To begin its 1956-57 season the band performed at the first home football game in September. They also played for all other home games and traveled to two away games at Manassas and James Monroe. Leading the annual Homecoming parade, the Band added to the very festive and excited spirit of the CHS students.

With James Geest—President, and Margaret Smoot—Business Manager, in charge of sales slips and subscription money, the Band again sponsored the annual magazine campaign. The profits from the total of $3,015.34 went to purchase new equipment for the organization.

Still in the Christmas spirit, the Band presented its annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, December 16, in the high school gym. The following selections were played: "Christmas Reverence" and "The First Noel Fantasy," by Clair W. Johnson; "Percussion in Review," "Burst of Trumpets," and "March on America," by Harold L. Watters; "High School Cadets," by John Philip Sousa; "Trum-

The musicians presented a program composed of many well-known marches for the enjoyment of teachers and students in the February assembly program. The reed, brass, percussion, and bell sections were featured in pieces throughout the program.

Sue Gallagher, Frank Peebles and John Willis, represented the CHS Band at the All-State Meet at Mount Vernon High School, February 8, 9, and 10. Frank Peebles, playing the trumpet, made third chair in the Concert Band in that section. Sue Gallagher, flutist, and John Willis, baritone player, also achieved high placement in the Workshop Band.

The Band participated in the District Band Festival, March 23, at Groveton High School, Alexandria, Virginia. Combined with the majorettes and color guard, the Band marched in a parade in Fredericksburg, Virginia, honoring the 350th anniversary of the founding of the Colony of Virginia. They also participated in the annual Apple Blossom Parade in Winchester, Virginia, on May 3.

4-H Workers Win Ribbons, Awards

The Senior 4-H Club was composed of members who have been active in club work for five to nine years. These members have reached the age where the results of hard and long work were paying off in the forms of recognition and awards.

Doris Carder, who has represented the county in the Area Contest for three years, chose bread as her project this year. Doris Hackley entered the freezing contest; Juanita Smith, canning; Lucille Jones, dairy foods, and Kathleen Troilo, dress revue. Kathy and Robert Lipscomb represented the county in the District Public Speaking Contest.

Gregory Smith and Jacob Haught were on the 4-H Dairy Judging Team that placed first in Northern Virginia District Contest last year. Robert Lipscomb was one of three members of the County 4-H Livestock Judging Team.

Members of this club served as junior leaders and were officers of special interest clubs in the county. Gregory Smith was president and Lucille Jones vice president of the 4-H County Council. Vincent Haught was president and John Willis vice president of the Culpeper 4-H Beef Club. Jacob Haught was president of the 4-H Dairy Club. This year Robert Lipscomb was junior leader of the 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club after attending the Tractor Maintenance Clinic at VPI.

The club had a large representation at the State Short Course at VPI the previous summer. Charlie Mills, Gregory Smith, Lucille Jones, Kathleen Troilo, and Marie McCloud attended Camp Farrar at Virginia Beach.

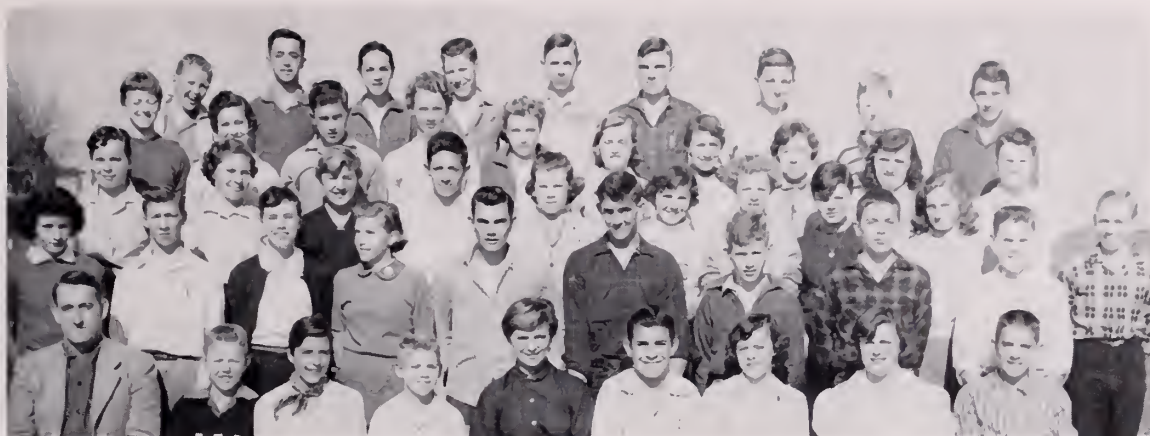

4-H Achievement Day was held November 10 in honor of the outstanding 4-H members. Winning achievement awards were Gregory

Smith, Charles Mills, Jr., and Jacob Haught. Millard Brown won an agriculture medal and Gregory, the 4-H County Council president, also received a leadership award as well as an achievement medal.

A dairy medal went to Charles Mills, Jr. Tommy Haught won an award on his meat animal. Others receiving awards were Robert Lipscomb, citizenship; Kathy Troilo, public speaking; Lucille Jones, room improvement; Marie McCloud and John Willis, electric; Arthur Hilton, tractor maintenance; Juanita Smith, bread demonstration. Doris Carder won an award in canning, and Doris Hackley won the clothing classification.

Junior 4-H'ers Receive New Name

Mr. George E. Russell and Miss Marie Turner served as county advisers to the Eager Beavers, as the Junior 4-H Club members liked to be called. This club, organized at the high school this year, consisted of members from the Ann Wingfield School and other county schools who had entered the eighth grade. This group became an active one and its members received many awards for outstanding accomplishments during the year.

This club met monthly on the regular Activity Period schedule in the Agricultural Building. Members who had livestock projects were divided into divisions; namely, a beef club, a dairy club, and a poultry club. The girls carried projects of cooking and sewing. 4-H project work has helped many boys and girls to get a start in life.

The Junior and Senior 4-H Clubs cooperated to give a Halloween Party. This took place in Dick C. Weaver's show room and 4-H'ers from all over the county attended. Judges awarded prizes for the best costumes.

The Eager Beavers club not only won the banner for being the best 4-H Club in the county last year, but won a twenty dollar award for having one of the best recreation programs of any other club in the state last year. This was largely due to the efforts of Patricia Burke, Dean Curtis and Thomas Noakes for organizing and directing various types of recreation activities.

Last August, some of the Culpeper 4-H'ers went to Holiday Lake for a vacation. Those who attended went with 4-H members from several other counties.

Members contributed to the success of the club program by their exhibits in the county, district and state shows. Both boys and girls took part in the farm show in September, held for the first time in the new Culpeper Agricultural Enterprises buildings on the Madison Road. Their entries included cattle, poultry, sewing, baked and canned goods, handicraft, and record books.

Safety Members March in Parade

SCHOOL DAY IS DONE—As the 3:15 bell rings, Miss M. Massey, teacher on bus duty, gives the high sign to M. Brown, patrolman on Mrs. R. Iager's bus, the first in line in front of the school. A. Hilton steps to the center of the highway with patrol flag extended, holding back the traffic as the 13 buses begin to roll. When D. Young's bus, last in line, stops on the road, Hilton climbs aboard—the last bus is on the highway.

The Safety Council looked forward to the National Safety Patrol Parade held in Washington, D. C., in early May and sponsored by the American Automobile Association. Boys and girls from Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia participated in the parade down Constitution Avenue.

Safety throughout the school bus transportation system was the main objective of the members of the Safety Council, although efficiency in loading and unloading of buses was also important. Boys and girls serving on the Council also received training in leadership and cooperation at the monthly meetings. At these meetings they also studied "Safety in the State," the handbook of safety regulations. Members brought up problems and planned improvements.

Activities of the Safety Council included providing safe crossing of all streets near the school, watching both students and traffic, and keeping order on the buses. Twenty-three members on the Council at Culpeper High School were a part of the total patrol system in the county with a total membership of 75. Each member received an official safety patrol badge and belt at the beginning of the school year.

Monogram Girls Run School Store

This year the Girls' Monogram Club was smaller in number than ever before but big in energy and athletic ability. During the year the club was engaged in many activities. Members sold sweatshirts and jackets to the entire student body with the name of the school printed on the front or back. Nine of the girls worked in the school store as they have in past years, selling candy, drinks, and ice cream. Those working under the direction of Mr. Floyd Binns, sponsor of the store, were Zeta Turner, Carol Seale, Geneva Hilton, Eleanor Mills, Naomi Cave, Jane Brown, Elizabeth Corbin, Doris Wolfrey, and Marion White. Two girls, Carol Seale and Eleanor Mills, had charge of the money till, counting each day's receipts and depositing it with the school treasurer.

The club presented the annual Faculty Basketball Game, March 11. In this game the women of the faculty played against the girls in the club who were on the basketball team. As a handicap the girls who usually played forward changed to guards, and the guards played forwards.

Members of the faculty team included high school, elementary, and substitute teachers. Playing in the first line-up were Mrs. James Crane, Mrs. Gary Waugh, Miss Louise Gal-leher, Miss Mary Korte, Mrs. Gene Wagner, and Mrs. James Dyer. Others participating in the game were Miss Margaret Massey, Mrs. William Houck, and Miss Mary George Bolen.

At a regular meeting on the first Wednesday in March the club held its initiation of new members. The new girls outnumbered the old ones ten to four. Each old member and Mrs. G. Waugh, adviser, had two girls each to initiate. These new girls wore ridiculous costumes to school and received much teasing from the students. The "private initiation" took place during the activity period when the girls were further welcomed into the club.

The Monogram girls held an old-fashioned square dance the night of April 5. There had not been a dance of this kind at Culpeper for a long time. A silver offering was taken at the door to raise money.

Masked Marvel Mystifies Many

The Monogram Club sponsored its annual Faculty-Monogram Club basketball game, which the faculty won easily 76 to 35. The Faculty was sparked by Douglas Sweeney with 30 points and the ball handling of the "Masked Marvel," Homer Garr. After the unmasking of the "Marvel," Sweeney made his entrance disguised in the mask.

The Monogram Club was in charge of lining up the floats and seeing that they were ready for the Homecoming parade. Jay Geest was marshal of the parade.

After the basketball season was over for the year, the club sponsored a basketball game between the Girls' and Boys' Basketball teams. In this game the boys wore boxing gloves as a handicap, thus making it an evenly played game. This was a new event for the club and it proved very successful.

This was the second year since the reorganization and the club had become stronger than ever. The club held its yearly initiation of new members. Following the practice of the previous year the initiation was private, only members, adviser, and initiates viewing the spectacle. The members-to-be went through ordeals that proved that they could take punishment, would obey their superiors, and generally proved them to be worthy of membership in the "C" Club. Tortures included the usual paddling; the foods such as spaghetti, cress salad in baby food style, eggs, and castor oil; and the unprintable secrets of the club.

The Rinkydinks cooperated with the Monogram Club for a banquet and dance which was held late in May. All students who participated in sports during the year received invitations to this fete. Boys who had won letters this year were awarded these and the seniors received medals. These medals were given according to the number of letters won by each person. The medals were struck in gold, silver, or copper in the form of a key. The most coveted awards were the trophies which went to the outstanding jayvee athlete and to the best all-round varsity monogram players.

Rinkydinks Perform Handyman Jobs

The Junior Monogram Club, or Rinkydinks as they are called most of the time, again helped the athletic department at the varsity football games. They parked cars, sold tickets and programs, walked fences, and helped in and around the stadium wherever they were needed.

The Dinks held initiations before boys became members of the club. The only ones qualified for the club were boys who had earned a letter in a junior varsity sport. This year they deviated from their usual procedure of having one initiation at the end of the year and held two initiations, one for the junior varsity football lettermen and another for the boys who earned their "C" in jayvee basketball.

"All Work and No Play" was hardly the rule for these boys. They gave an informal dance on March 8, for all the students of Culpeper High.

For the second time the Rinkydinks and the Boys' Monogram Club united to give a banquet. At this festivity all boys who had participated in athletics received various awards. These included two trophies; one to the outstanding jayvee athlete and one to the best all-round varsity monogram player. Keys, bronze, silver, and gold, were presented to all monogram winners according to the number years of service. Afterwards there was a dance for all the boys and their dates in the cafeteria.

Student Body Elects Cheerleaders

HOMECOMING GAME—L. Stein, A. Clark, and M. Ford welcome C. DeBarr and B. Eheart, representatives of Orange, to the Homecoming game and present them the key to Culpeper as Mrs. G. Waugh looks on.

Fifteen girls tried out for varsity cheerleaders one Wednesday in September during a pep rally. The student body assembled in the football stadium and watched as each girl led a cheer by herself. Later students went back to their homerooms and voted for eight. This was the first time cheerleaders had been elected by popular vote.

Matching skirts and sweaters of royal blue with gold letters were the uniforms used by cheerleaders in the preceding years and retained by the squad. The squad practiced each Monday and Wednesday after school.

The night before Homecoming the cheerleaders had their annual bonfire and a pep rally to get the spirit high for the next night. The group decorated a gold convertible and rode through town in the Homecoming Parade, October 12, giving yells. Before the game the squad drove through town in a jeep arousing enthusiasm from the townsfolk and getting them in the mood for the game. That night, in addition to having yellow corsages themselves, the Cheerleaders presented Mrs. Gary Waugh, their adviser, with a chrysanthemum. At half time they gave the captain of the Orange Cheerleaders a gold and blue key to Culpeper.

After the football season the girls began revising the cheers and practicing them for the basketball season. For example, the cheer "Touch Down, Touch Down" had to be changed to "Basket, Basket." Due to a physical injury Kathy Troilo had to drop out. She was replaced by Nancy Troxell, the next highest by vote. To raise money for representation in the yearbook the Cheerleaders sold cookies in the cafeteria.

Cheerleaders could not be on the basketball team or participate in the school band. All cheerleaders had to be at each game and were excused only for sickness. The girls performed with the band at each football game and decorated the goal posts each Friday. Mozelia Ford became captain because of seniority.

The girls solved the difficulties of transportation to football and basketball games by going in private cars. People who used their cars to help the group out included parents; their sponsor, Mrs. Gary Waugh; the principal, Mr. Wayne King; and Miss Mary Martha Korte, an elementary teacher.

At basketball games the girls cheered during quarters, at half time, and during time out; at football games they cheered more often. Both in football and basketball season the cheerleaders gave the opposite team a welcome cheer. After the welcome the girls introduced themselves and got acquainted with the opposite team's cheerleaders.

SCA and Faculty Choose Boosters

"All Set? You Bet!" This was the cue that the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders gave before each cheer at all of the Junior Varsity basketball and football games during 1956-57. Mrs. Gary Waugh, coach of basketball squads and cheerleaders added the jayvee cheerers to her list of clubs to advise.

In September, the girls who wanted to be cheerleaders stayed after school every day and practiced the cheers. After each contestant had led a cheer the SCA and faculty picked eight girls on the basis of their pep, agility, and gracefulness, who were to get a place on the squad.

The squad wore navy blue corduroy skirts with a gold lining and white turtle-neck sweaters adorned with monograms, which were 6-inch gold "C's" with blue trim. They used blue CHS megaphones during the football games. The cheerleaders practiced every Monday and Wednesday after school throughout the year. After football season was over they changed the cheers for basketball season.

The squad had many other activities besides the basketball and football games at which they cheered. Before every Junior Varsity game they decorated the two goal posts, one with blue and gold streamers, and the other post with the opponent's colors.

For the Homecoming Parade the cheerleaders decorated a convertible with blue and gold streamers, and rode in it repeating cheers and songs throughout the parade.

The squad also assisted the varsity squad in putting on a pep rally the night before the Homecoming game to arouse the school spirit of the students. For all of the varsity games, the Rinkydinks and Jayvee cheerleaders sold programs before the game.

Although the squad cheered mostly for the jayvee team, they also cheered in the absence of the varsity cheerleaders when there would be four games scheduled for one day, two at home and two away. The favorite cheers of the squad were "In a Huddle," "Paul Revere," and "Fight, Team, Fight."

The girls for the 1957-58 squad were selected in the spring. Each girl led a cheer. Then eight girls were named who best met the requirements.

	Touchdown—Jim Weakley

Under the tutelage of a new coach, Mr. Burley Crowe, the Blue Devils faced the task of rebuilding a team.

Nine lettermen returned to be joined by 13 other squadmen, four of which moved up from the jayvee squad, and one transfer from Manassas, to make one of the smallest squads out for football in recent years.

Added to this year's schedule were Montevideo and Hammond, two new schools that should provide plenty of opposition for Culpeper next year. Lost by next year's squad this year were seven seniors, Richard Robson, William Cropp, Thomas Haught, James Weakley, Douglas Bayne, Wright Leathers, and James Woods.

Joseph Weakley, switching to quarterback, showed nice ball handling and hope for next year. William Jenkins was top scorer with 31 points, followed closely behind by George Morris and Jim Weakley with 20 each. Mac Holman, Donald Printz, Denis Regan, Warren Fallin, Jim Bazzle, Richard Crismond, and Howard Fincham were linemen who should help the team greatly next year. Joseph Weakley, Patrick Gurganus, George Morris, William Jenkins, Beverley Bradshaw will make up next year's returning backfield.

Rinkeydinks football team, under the direction of their new coach, Mr. Harold Logan, got off to a slow start, but finished fast, playing improved football in all of their later games. Although this year's team was much smaller than Dinks elevens of the past, they had a number of boys from last year's undefeated squad who had the same fight and determination that always depicts a Rinkeydink team.

Travis Tysinger, a quarterback, Jacob Haught, a fullback, Jack Bruce and Beverly Bradshaw, halfbacks, made up the starting backfield for this year's team. In the line were Douglas Smoot, William Howard, and William White, who alternated as ends; Thomas Lane and Thomas Brown, tackles; Roger Dodson and Maury Fincham, guards; and Ellis Gore, center. Several of the second team boys came on fast during the season, and as a whole the team gave great promise for the future football teams at Culpeper.

Hugh Hawkins, with two touchdowns and one extra point, sparked the Dinks in their only win of the season. Jack Bruce scored one TD. The Culpeper boys controlled the ball most of this game with Woodberry.

In a previous game with Woodberry they tied 6-6. In this game it was William White who hit pay dirt for the Dinks.

Cagers Miss Tournament Third Year

KEEP IT, GEEST, THEY DON'T NEED IT—Spotsylvania's G. Kurucz (5) guards J. Geest (33). Players in background are J. Weakley and an unidentified Black Knight.

Improving steadily and playing good ball at the end of the season, the Devil basketballers missed the District Tournament by one-half game. Using a sliding zone defense, the cagers led District 2 in defense, and held leading district teams to lower scores.

A full first string team plus one were returning lettermen, namely James Geest, James Lamphier, James, Joseph, and Robert Weakley, and Douglas Bayne. George Morris, John Korte, Patrick Gurganus, and Warren Fallin moved up from the 1956 jayvee team. Joe Weakley was high scorer with 192 points followed by Lamphier with 140. Geest and R. Weakley tied for third place with 92 each. Other individual scores were Bayne 53, Jim Weakley 39, Morris 24, Korte 10, Gurganus 6, and Fallin 2.

Five men shot higher than 30 per cent. They were Bayne 46, Morris 38, Lamphier and Joe Weakley 34 each, and Fallin 33. Other shooting percentages were Jim Weakley 28, Bob Weakley 24, Geest 23, Korte 21, and Gurganus 9.

The Devils lost the two Fredericksburg and the away Albemarle games in the last few seconds of the contest after having led the opponents earlier. Similarly they lost the home Orange game in the last quarter.

Rinkydinks Play Hard-fought Ball

Getting skill with every game, the Rinkydink cagers finished their season with a 10 loss, 5 win score. They played some good, hard-fought, exciting ball despite their record, for they came out on the wrong end of some very close games. Height was a major problem, although George Aylor, Hugh Hawkins, and Ronald Knakal did a good job on the boards along with dropping in quite a few baskets. William Jenkins, Douglas Smoot, and Travis Tysinger worked as out-front men. They turned in a good job of dribbling and ball handling. Jenkins excelled in fast breaks. William White and Jacob Haught were consistent hitters for a nice tally from the outside.

The Dinks fought out some close ones. They played some of their better defense in the game with Spotsylvania, where the Dinks came out a two-point victor in the final seconds.

Jenkins led the scoring with 97 points; Aylor was second with 59 points. Next in order of points were William White with 46, Haught with 37, Knakal with 35, Smoot with 27, Tysinger with 13, Hawkins with 9, Jack Bruce and Otis Deal 7 each, Lewis Owen 6, Roy Burke 4, and John Kilby and William Howard 2 each.

In the final game Madison, having been defeated in the first game at Culpeper 31 to 10, sought revenge and succeeded in pulling a surprising upset 21 to 22. The game was nip and tuck all the way through with the score changing frequently. Madison's Shotwell sank a field goal in the final seconds of the game to take the win.

Spotsylvania was the only team the little Devils were able to down twice. Aylor with 13 points was high scorer in the game on the Black Knights' court, and Knakal with 8 led the team at home

GUARDED SHOT—R. Knakal shoots as Spotsylvania's Hootchin (8) guards. Other players seen are Mullen (11) of Spotsylvania and T. Tysinger.

Girl Basketeers Fight Hard, Win One

Added to the nucleus of the returning varsity players, Virginia Parker, Ellen Walker, Jane Brown, Ann Clatterbuck, and transfer Mildred Allen, were six last year jayvee players to make up the varsity squad. After the loss of Brown, Walker, Jean Fincham, and Jacqueline Clatterbuck, Gloria Curtis was brought up from the jayvees. Parker, with both set and hook shots, led the scoring with 159 points. Points scored by others were as follows: Marian White 104, Allen 42, Brown 16, and Linda Sudduth 1.

Guard positions were filled by Sudduth,

Clatterbuck, Joyce Printz, and Paula Hawkins. Cecelia Vernon served her first year as manager. Former manager Barbara Lipscomb was the official scorekeeper.

This year, since the side baskets were moved back to the walls of the gymnasium, and two standard courts were available, the varsity and jayvee girls shared most of the practice sessions with the jayvee boys.

Baby Devilettes Go Winless

The Junior Varsity team consisted of 6 returning players and 11 novices, some of whom had never seen a girls' basketball game. The returning members were Nancy Graves, Joan Groves, Erma Garr, Rebecca Hawkins, Gloria Curtis, and Margaret Baber. Gloria, a forward, moved up to the varsity in the second semester. While playing jayvee ball, she scored 23 points.

GET THAT BALL!—Philips of Orange (14) holds ball as Burke (2) bends over in attempt to grab it. Bryson is in the background.

The other forwards made their points as follows: Betty Dwyer 34, Eleanor Mills 28, Irene Bryson 27, Patricia Burke 10, and Audrey Frye 5. The team, having the same trouble as the varsity girls, lost Mills and Garr after the first semester.

Playing a zone defense, the guards were Hawkins, Graves, Baber, Groves, Carol Seale, Jane Pote, Sandra Waugh, Carol Fitzhugh, Arlien Steiner, and Nancy Speiden.

For the first time the two teams had the same coach, Mrs. Gary Waugh, who added the coaching of the junior girls to her duties this year. Cecelia Vernon managed the teams, while Barbara Lipscomb kept the score during games.

Playing eight triumphant games, the 1956 Softball Devilettes stretched their winning record to 45 consecutive victories and five consecutive undefeated years. The winning streak established a new record for consecutive wins. The former record was 35 wins. The last defeat occurred in 1951 when Falmouth downed the Devilettes 18 to 8 and 7 to 6.

The 1956 team chalked a total of 151 runs while their opponents could only score 29. Four teams remained runless while the Devilettes rolled over them with huge scores. This brought the number of teams held scoreless during the winning streak up to ten.

Willie Estes led in the home run department with 3 homers while Marian White, Geneva Hilton, Elizabeth Corbin, Barbara Landis, and Jacquelin Bragg followed with one a piece.

Barbara Landis led for triples with one. Barbara also tied with Bragg and Corbin for doubles with two a piece.

Korte Pitches One-Hitter

Both won games, Madison and Albemarle, were extra inning contests, and two lost games, Fredericksburg and Madison, ran into extra innings. The team lost three of their other games in the last inning.

Joseph Korte threw a one-hitter for his win and also batted in the winning runs with his base clearing triple. Another feature was James Lamphier's pitching when he notched the Devils to a 16-3 win over Albemarle. In this game, home runs were hit by James Bazzle, Howell Ferneyhough, James Weakley, and Jesse Jenkins.

James Bazzle, a freshman, was the team's leading batter with a .378 average and Doug Bayne was second, batting .303. As a whole, the team's average was .234.

The squad lost three to next year's team by graduation, Korte, Harry Carpenter, William Aylor; also one, Ferneyhough, by transfer.

SWEET VICTORY—H. Ferneyhough scores winning run in Madison game on J. Korte's triple. Mr. W. Eggborn is umpire.

In the state meet at Charlottesville, Edwin Gaines won in the shot put, Winfrey Gore won in the mile, David Frye placed fourth in the 440, and the mile relay team placed fourth in its event. The 1956 track season saw two new school records set. Robert Dodson broke the pole vault records with 10' 2", and Frye set the 440 yd. dash record with 52.4 seconds. At the beginning of the season members of the track team participated in the Alexandria Relays, where the distance medley relay team consisting of David Frye, Richard Ingram, Richard Robson, and Winfrey Gore won their event.

In the district meet James Monroe topped the scoring with 47¹/₂ points followed by Culpeper with 33 for second place. Other scores follow: Albemarle 27; Orange 25; Douglas Freeman 11; Varina 7; Stafford 3¹/₂; Madison 0.

In the A. A. U. track meet at Richmond, the Blue Devil track team won two first places.

Gore won the mile run. The other event which we won was the distance medley relay, with a team composed of Ingram, William Eaheart, Frye, and Gore.

SCHOOL LIFE

Jan is going to give Laura and Joe a glimpse of the events outside of classes which highlight each month of the year. There are big club projects, dances, and athletic events each month, which many of the CHS'ers attend. Many of the students, individually or as a group, enter contests which are held at CHS and away. They won numerous prizes and honors.

A large number of students are active in sports and a sports event may draw the largest group of spectators of the year. Wrestling claimed a place on the schedule with the other four sports about mid-year. This new sport became very popular in its first year.

Graduates Look To The Future

June

ADVERTISEMENTS

Jan now introduces Laura and Joe to the advertisers without whose financial aid the COLONNADE could not exist. These people who have establishments in Culpeper and surrounding counties have found that the COLONNADE is an excellent way to advertise because it goes into so many homes and is rarely discarded.

Besides helping to make the COLONNADE possible to each student, the businesses represented on the following pages also supplied them with everything from paper and pencils to cars and clothes and supported many other school activities. Buying the products advertised in the yearbook is one way in which students are able to thank advertisers for their much appreciated help.

addition to the basic requirements. Home economics, agriculture, shop, art, music, and diversified occupations make up the general classes. These students may also choose commercial classes—shorthand, typing, book-keeping, and business arithmetic, and college preparatory classes including Spanish, Latin, algebra, world history, chemistry, physics, and journalism. Students enrolled in the diversified occupations program attend classes only in the morning taking required courses such as English, history, civics, and math and a course in diversified occupations. In the afternoon these students work and put into practice what they have learned.

Students attaining an "A" or "B" on all subjects at the end of the six weeks grading period hold the distinction of being placed on the honor roll. The student must also attain a grade of satisfactory on conduct. A "C" average is required for recommendation to college. Culpeper High School restricts membership in extra-curricular activities by the point system to be sure that these activities, although important, do not overshadow regular school work.

Staff Charts Future in Finis

The staff presents this section in stereo, wishing to give the reader a true picture of the school and believing that such a picture can be set forth only in 3-D. This is the photography of the future; when Joe, Jan, and Laura are in high school, their entire yearbook may be in stereo. The top pictures are of the front of CHS after all of the students have left for the summer; the lower set are of the vacant halls that have been crowded with the throngs of students during the winter months, but are now deserted.

To see these sets of stereo pictures, the viewer needs only a pocket mirror. He should hold the mirror on its edge, against the left side of his nose and between each pair of pictures. He views the reflected image of the left picture with his left eye, at the same time, looking at the right picture with his right eye. When the two pictures overlap and superimpose themselves one on the other, there will be an illusion of depth.
